SUMMER IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER.

Here are some funny but TRUE proverbs:

- You cannot get to the top by sitting on your bottom.
- He who never made a mistake, never made a discovery.
- A bird in the hand is safer than one overhead.
- Hear and you forget, see and you remember, do and you'll understand.
- It matters not what you do, as long as you are the best one doing it.
- Many complain of their looks, but none of their brains.
- Practice makes perfect, but nobody's perfect, so why practice?
- It's only those who do nothing who never make mistakes.

We all know how big Australia is, right? Just to have an idea, the size of Portugal is 92,090km², while Australia is 7,692,024km². These road signs are found in Australia. Funny ☺

Student's Work

The Last Concert

It was ten years ago on a sad dark and rainy day. No one in the country wanted this to happen, but it was their decision and no one could change their minds.

DZRT, the Portuguese Pop band was getting to an end as their members Edmundo, Angelico, Tope and Zé Milho decided to follow different paths.

I remember like it was yesterday, MEO Arena was completely packed, not even one more person was allowed into the building, and many others were forced to leave as they fainted due to the very hot ambient.

As DZRT got onto the stage, the crowd went wild, and screamed out loud: "Please don't break up." There were thousands!!

The first song they sang was "Para mim tanto me faz", their number one hit.

I found myself crying like a baby in the exact moment they said we were the best fans in the world and we, all known as "morangos" generation, loved the concert. It was so intense and emotional.

Memories are all that are left.

Eco-Friendly School

Introduction

In this report I am going to make some recommendations to make the school more eco-friendly.

Recycling

I suggest buying appropriate bins for the school (Yellow, blue and green) for students and teachers to recycle rubbish instead of putting it in normal bins.

Saving energy

I propose buying solar panels for the school because they are more eco-friendly and save a lot of energy. Our school can also buy more solar-powered and rechargeable equipment, like light bulbs.

Not wasting water

I recommend that the school should organize a campaign to teach everyone how not to waste water. We can also start to reuse water. For example, the water that students don't drink during lunch can be used in the school garden.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I think that if the school follows my recommendations, we can be more eco-friendly.

"People under 18 shouldn't be allowed to use social networking sites."

Some people claim that people under 18 shouldn't be allowed to use social networking sites. In my opinion, it depends on how responsible each person is.

Firstly, not all social networking sites are safe, so people under 18 should be extremely careful to avoid talking to strangers or expose personal details. If they don't take these precautions, these sites are very dangerous.

Secondly, people tend to waste a lot of time on these sites chatting with their friends or playing games online. However, this applies to everyone, not just under 18 year-olds, and they can avoid this by organizing their time better.

On the other hand, I think these sites can be very useful for people under 18. For instance, if a parent is on a business trip, they can talk to their children on one of these sites and they can keep in touch.

To sum up, I think that if people under 18 want to use social networking sites they should be allowed to do it, provided that they are responsible enough to use them. These sites should require the parents' permission if their children want to join.

Lost in Mars

Last week I went to the cinema with some good friends and after a while we decided to watch "Lost in Mars".

The film was really interesting and I found it one of the best films I have ever seen. The beginning was a bit confusing and boring but it took me less than ten minutes to change my opinion. After those ten minutes the main story changed completely and it turned out to be quite an exciting film. It took me a long time to finish my popcorn as I was really concentrated on the movie. The story was getting more interesting and exciting as the movie progressed. At the end of the film, I was not disappointed at all because it had been an exciting, and, at the same time, a dramatic film.

I recommend watching "Lost in Mars" because it is a great movie, especially for those who love science fiction.

The use of computers

Students: Students use computers for homework. Students also use computers when they have doubts in the school. They use it for school projects. This is what they use for school but in the free time they use computers to play games and other things.

Teachers: A teacher uses a computer to do his / her tests for their class, talk with their class by email, do the final marks of the students, put the listening in the test, put some music to make the students stop talking. Sometimes, to put some films and games for their class.

Vets: The vets use the computer for a lot of things. The vets use the computer to analyse the animals like dogs and cats. They use the computer to print invoices and write reports of illness of the animals and x-rays.

Astronauts: The astronauts use the computers to be in connection with Earth and to localize in space. They use computers for communication with other astronauts and to search things. Also, to observe asteroids, satellites and comets.

Journalists: Journalists use computers to write comments about famous people, politics, murders, war, sports and the future events. The most important thing in a journalist is to know how to use words because without knowing how to use words, they can't improvise.
